Hartford would be a good location for an industries, capable watchmaker and jeweler. At present there is no workman of this class in the community.

Mr. Martin lost another dwelling house on his farm near Cromwell a few days before this fire.

The Woman's Club will give an entertainment Tuesday night, Dec. 20. The program will be rendered mostly by home talent and we request the patronage of the good citizens of Hartford, on that account partly, and also because the project proposed by these ladies, for which they are raising money, will interest the entire town. Admission: Adults 25c; children 15c.

Emmett W. Cate, the alleged bigamist of this county, who has been confined in the jail at Jeffersonville, Ind., after the jury failed to agree on his case, escaped from prison Sunday morning. He, in company with a fellow-prisoner named Moxie Kline, forced his way out with the aid of an iron bar.

LARRY.—O to v. i. n. a. r. i. l. y. surrendered himself to an officer in Louisville Monday night. Moxie Kline was also captured at his father's home in Jeffersonville.

And it came to pass that after he had advertised his goods, there came unto him great multitudes from all the region round about and did buy of him. And when his competitors saw it, they marvelled among themselves, saying: "How be it that this man is busy while we loaf about our doors?" And he spoke unto them saying: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, in this fast age of push and hustle, it is easier for a camel to enter the eye of a needle than for a business man to flourish without advertising."

Considerable tobacco has passed through Hartford the past week, enroute to Owensboro or some other point, for sale. It has caused considerable comment, and many persons are led to inquire why Hartford cannot afford a few buyers and places to dispose of the weed. If Hartford were made a good tobacco market, it would be a great benefit to the town, community and the whole surrounding country. Much money would be spent here that now goes to other trade centers. It is hoped that Hartford will have one or two tobacco houses added to her other enterprises before another season passes.

People are often ready to condemn a newspaper if it fails to get a personal mention of their relatives or friends going or coming, but they fail to take into consideration the difficult task of keeping track of all these small matters. There is so much visiting going on and so many people traveling nowadays that it is an absolute impossibility to get the movements of all. Eager as a paper may be to print all the news of every kind, it often misses small items. There is no paper, however, that is not glad to get all the news procurable or that may be brought to it, and if it happens to fail once in a great while, even on some very small matter, the public may know that it was not intentional. Meanwhile, those super-sensitive persons who seem so ready to complain at a newspaper's alleged shortcomings should be kind enough to help the news man just a little by giving him a hint of what they consider good news.

A Magnificent Entertainment.
The young people of Hartford gave a grand entertainment at the court house on the evening of the 7th of December. The committee on arrangements were Messrs. E. T. Miller, Sam Cox, O. B. Harris, Clyde Wedding and Henry Hall. Visitors were expected on the steamer Scotio, which was a little behind time, but landing was made at about 10 o'clock p. m., which brought a goodly number and among them were: Messrs. John T. May, R. L. Moore, R. P. Paxton, John Crockett, and Misses Annie and Mary May, Central City; Misses Daisy Field, Clara Layton, Blanche Greenwood, Mrs. Livers and Little Miss Livers, Messrs. G. H. Crowe, W. H. Hackett, Capt. Vicksburg Barry, Livermore; Miss Jessie Long and Jailer Riggs, Calhoun; Miss Eva Clark, Rosine; Ed. Montague, Owensboro, and Miss Sade Austin, Beaver Dam.

At about 12:30 o'clock all were invited to partake of a lunch at the Hartford House prepared by Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Boyer, assisted by Miss Lina Boyer, of Louisville, who is visiting her brother at the Hartford House. The tables were laden with the best the market could afford and spread in the most elegant style. All the appointments were apparently correct in every particular; nothing could have been nicer. The visiting ladies say they were treated in royal Kentucky style and could wish for nothing better. The visiting parties brought with them one of the best string bands from Livermore that Western Kentucky could afford. JAY EYR SAN.

Hanged Himself.
[Leitchfield Gazette.]
Yesterday (Thursday) morning a telephone message to Leitchfield conveyed the information that Andrew McCready, who lived about a mile south of West City near the Crow school house had hanged himself. He had went out to feed his stock, and after he had been gone for some time, one of the family went out to see what had detained him and found him dead. He had hanged himself to a cross-beam in the barn and from all appearances the struggle between life and death was soon over. They sent for the coroner, T. M. Sisk, who went yesterday to hold an inquest.

The deceased was between 60 and 65 years old, a substantial farmer and a good Democrat. He was considered in good circumstances, being out of debt and having some money loaned out. He leaves a wife and children, and we have been unable to learn at this writing what caused the despondency that led to his rash act.

For Pneumonia.
Dr. J. C. Bishop, of Agnew, Mich., says: "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar in three very severe cases of pneumonia the past month with good results." For sale by J. H. Williams.

Horrible Accident.
[Elkhart Progress.]
Few times, if ever, in the history of Elkhart and Todd county has such a distressing and fatal accident occurred as the one witnessed last evening. A little ten-year-old white boy, the son of a clever woman, was the victim.

For some time Mrs. Alice Wilson has been cleaning up the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank. Last evening, as was her usual custom, Mrs. Wilson went with her two little boys, aged 10 and 12 respectively, to the bank to attend to her regular duties. In the bank was a loaded Winchester rifle and the boys began thoughtlessly playing with it.

The weapon was accidentally discharged in the hands of Robert, the youngest boy, the ball entering his temple, tearing his nose off, his forehead and lastly taking off the top of his head, exposing and scattering the brains upon the floor. Blood flowed in great quantities and death resulted a few moments after the shot was fired. It was one of the saddest of pictures and the scene was terrible to behold. The mother is completely heartbroken and has the sympathy of the entire community.

Good health is worth more than anything else to you, and every bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla contains good health.

The heavy snow which fell Sunday caused the telephone wire across the river to sag and a rise in the river brought a steamboat high enough to strike the wire and break it. However it was soon spliced.

Bryan to Quit the Army.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Dec. 10.—William Jennings Bryan, colonel of the Third Nebraska regiment, has either forwarded his resignation to Washington or will do so. To-day he called upon General Lee, commander of the Seventh corps, and Gen. Keifer, commander of the First division of the corps of which Colonel Bryan's regiment is a part, and announced his intention of quitting the service. General Lee sails for Cuba on the transport Panama tomorrow. Col. Bryan is believed to have hastened his decision in order that he might acquaint his corps commander with his intention prior to his departure for the island.

Hawesville's Troubles.

[Pittsfielder.]
We may call it ex-cession, humanitarianism, or imperialism, but what's in a name? A "flour" by any other name would smell as sweet.

A woman in this place dreams frequently that Queen Victoria intends to visit her, and from the way she recollects her husband about his ragged coat, evident expects her soon.

So at drinking in this place is on the wane, not because of a decrease of appetite, but men have come to the conclusion that a man's friendship is not worth more than a nickel and it costs a dime to get 'em up.

One fellow married last week hoping it would enable him to get on the jury; another shot his wife off to keep from marrying; while another took whiskey through a mistake for carbolic acid to escape the ceremony, and the girl went back on him.
